Rules and Regulations

1. The program will start at 12 PM sharp. You all are advised to reach ED conference room 5 minutes before the start of the program.
2. There will be four groups and each group will be given a color (Red, Blue, Yellow or Green). You can find your group in this document and collect your identification apparel on the day of program before the start of session from Muhammad Abid.
3. The distribution of groups is kept homogenous with equal representation of each year in each group. You are expected to comply with the group distribution.
4. This is a team event and therefore points will be awarded for playing the game as a team with equal chance and involvement of each member in the group.
5. One member (preferably) the PGY 4 will be sitting on the hot seat and will throw the dice on the LUDO board and play the game. The other team members will help him by answering the right answer and moving the respective color piece forward as per the LUDO board.
6. Each side of the dice has a unique number and each number possess unique questions. The correct answer to each question by the respective team will result in movement of the respective color piece forward. If the team unable to give the right answer the color piece will not be moved.
7. All questions will be displayed on the projector and made from your Textbook (Tintinalli's Textbook of Emergency Medicine 9th Edition). The images of radiology and clinical images are taken from EM atlas and FOAM resources.
8. Each team member can use their android phone or laptop but had to inform the program moderator by ringing the bell place near the LUDO board. Only 5 chances can be availed in total for utilizing an open book/android/laptop option.
9. All participants must fill a post event evaluation form to give their feedback regarding the program and areas of improvement.
